What have we concluded?

The Board has concluded that this fund has consistently demonstrated strong value for investors in all share classes. The fund has achieved a level of returns consistent with its investment objective and we believe it is well placed to continue to deliver strong investment performance going forward. Jupiter regularly reviews all aspects of the products and services which it provides, to continuously improve its offering to investors and will report on any such initiatives in future Value Assessments.

The Assessment of Value for your Fund

Investment Objective

To achieve capital growth. In seeking to achieve its investment objective the fund will aim to deliver a return, net of fees, greater than that of the FTSE All-Share Index over rolling 3-year periods.

Fund Performance

All share classes have provided a higher level of return, net of fees, than the fund's benchmark, at the time of assessment, and have therefore met the investment objective. The fund has also grown investors' capital over the three years to 31 March 2023.

The market moved lower over the first 6 months as central banks raised interest rates in the face of persistently high inflation. After the installment of a new Prime Minister in the autumn, the government announced unfunded tax cuts that sent Gilt yields soaring, forcing the Bank of England to intervene in the bond market by raising interest rates. Equity markets recovered over the winter on hopes that a peak in rates may be near. China eased COVID restrictions adding to the positive mood while the quick replacement of Truss by Rishi Sunak, a reversal of the Budget measures and an agreement on post Brexit arrangements for Northern Ireland restored confidence in the UK. The failure of Credit Suisse and some US regional banks caused a setback in March, but the market recovered as the impact appeared contained.

Positive contributions came from luxury consumer discretionary as China's re-opening boosted demand and a stock in the manufacturing sector moved higher on strong performance thanks to its Aerospace division.

We are confident that the fund is well placed to continue to successfully build a long-term track record. The Board fulfils an oversight role with regular investment updates provided by the senior management team, and we look forward to providing a further update in our next value statement.

Quality of Service

The services we provide to manage, operate, and administer the fund were evaluated as part of the 2023 Value Assessment, and have demonstrated a high quality of service over the period of review.

Costs of the Authorised Fund Manager (AFM)

We have evaluated the costs borne by the AFM for providing services to the fund and concluded that these are fair and reasonable in respect of providing investment, operational and administrative services.

Economies of Scale

We have found that the majority of costs within Jupiter, specific to the management of investors' assets, vary with the level of assets held in a particular fund and do not indicate economies of scale attributable to individual funds. However, it is possible that economies of scale may be realised by the Group within the fixed costs it incurs. We have reviewed, for each fund, the amount of these fixed costs, the level of assets, and how these have increased or decreased during the year to identify if any economies were realised by the firm. The outcome of this year's assessment does not currently indicate economies of scale attributable to individual products that can be shared with investors.

Comparable Market Rates

We analysed the extent to which the fund has comparable market rates when compared with an appropriate peer group and concluded that the fees for all share classes were in the median and judged to be appropriate. This is in the context of our value and service proposition as an active, high-conviction investment manager and the opportunities we seek to provide for our investors.

Comparable Services

Our conclusion was that fees charged to the fund are comparable and consistent with the fees charged to other Jupiter Group investors for comparable services. As such, we consider the fees appropriate in the overall context of the services we provide to the fund.

Class of Units or Shares

Having assessed the classes of shares available in the fund, we have concluded that investors currently can and do access the fund through the most appropriate share class available to them.
